Awarded GOLD MEDAL at World's Exposition San Francisco

Costs You Nothing to have this wonderful new Aladdin coal oil (kerosene) mantle lamp demonstrated right in your own home. You don't need to pay us a cent unless you are perfectly satisfied and agree that it is the best oil lamp you ever saw.

Twice the Light
On Half the Oil

Recent tests by the Government and noted scientists at 35 leading Universities prove the Aladdin gives more than twice the light and burns less than half as much oil as the best round wick, open flame lamps on the market. Thus the Aladdin will pay for itself many times over in oil saved, to say nothing of the increased quantity and quality of pure white light it produces. A style for every need.

$1000.00 Will Be Given by the Mantle Lamp Company—the largest Coal Oil (kerosene) mantle lamp house in the world—to any person who shows them an oil lamp equal to the Aladdin. Would they dare invite such comparison with all other lights if there were any doubt about the superiority of the Aladdin?

speaking on Journalism, Judge Dorton on Law and Mr. Neel on Agriculture. The younger boys' chorus furnished the music for the evening.

Our thirty-seventh annual commencement was enhanced by the perfect weather which made possible the attendance of a large number of guests. The entertainment of Friday evening opened the program with a little operetta, "The Pixies Triumph," presented by the primary and intermediate grades. The solo parts were particularly well done. A piano solo by Anna Taylor marked the transition to the second part of the program, the presentation of the diplomas to the eighth grade by their principal, Miss Dodge.

The speaking contest was held at 7:30 Saturday evening, the high school boys' chorus furnishing the music. The speakers were Lilly Trapp, Merrel Wood, Emma Bronson, Ray Clouse, Claud W. Hagan and Harvey Cole. The first prize was awarded to Claud W. Hagan and second to Lilly Trapp.

Judge J. W. Dorton preached a very fine baccalaureate sermon with words of real inspiration to the Senior Class.

The year of Bible study which Miss Dodge's pupils of the eighth grade have so deeply enjoyed found a fitting crown in the beautiful presentation of the story of Ruth, given at the Academy Sunday night. In a setting of tasteful simplicity and the rosy glow of shaded lamps the harmonious colors of the Oriental costumes added beauty to scenes perfected by the dignity and poise of the players. Anna Roberts as Naomi, Pauline Johnson as Ruth and Francis Clark as Boaz, were ably supported by a caste which included the entire class, and thanks are due each member for so worthy an interpretation of the beautiful idyll.

The spirit of the evening was suggested by Miss Dodge, who in a few opening words asked that there be no applause, and the charm and loveliness of the Hebrew story was pointed by the music of Miss Holway and other members of the quarter. In all the work of her two years for our music department Miss Holway has done no more beautiful thing than her rendition of the hymns played at the piano with such an effect between the scenes and those who sung with other members of the quarter. The artistry of the entire program will long be a cherished memory with those who were so fortunate as to be present.

Monday morning a reunion of Alumni was held at Pioneer was an exhibition of the work of the drawing and manual training classes. In the afternoon Dr. Lee of the Greek department of the state university delivered the commencement address, and presentation Monday night of the operetta "Sylvia" closed the commencement program. Most of the faculty and students left on Tuesday.
